Welcome to the April issue of our 'Work Hard; Be Kind; Well-being' newsletter!

There'll be an issue of this newsletter at the end of each month until the end of this academic year (July).

This is your 'one stop shop' for information and resources to support your time out of school.

1. What is 'well-being'?

It's a term we hear a lot but what does it mean?

Dictionary definitions tell us that it's about comfort, health and happiness. Essentially, it's about our emotional as well as our physical health: keeping our minds and our bodies healthy!

Here's a short video which might give you some ideas about what 'well-being' means <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=oSIWo5nxF2A> and another one with ideas for how you could develop yours: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=yF7Ou43Vj6c>. Aimed at children but applicable to adults, too!

COVID-19 Lockdown: Children and Teenagers

Living in isolation is a new experience for all of us. None of us really know how to navigate or look after ourselves in this situation. Here are some tips to help you stay feeling good during this strange time away from your friends and daily routine.

See if any work for you and if they do, keep doing them.

Routine

Try to stick to some sort of routine while you are at home as this will make you feel more productive and it will help with your sense of well-being.

Sleep

A regular sleep pattern will improve mood, motivation and energy. Save a fit-in until the weekend.

Connection

Staying connected with your friends is really important during this time as it will make you feel a part of something. Remember stay connected with people who will make you feel good during this time.

Mindfulness

Mindfulness is an excellent tool to help us reduce feelings of anxiety and worry and it can increase our sense of happiness and well-being.

Feelings

Don't dismiss your feelings—they are valid and it's important that you express them. Find someone you can trust to talk to. You could also look at the link in the blog for some free support.

Limit listening to the news

Be aware of how many times you listen to the news in one day. Be mindful of when you listen to it, too, and how reliable the source of the news may be.

Stay active

Moving your body is essential to helping us feel great, both mentally and physically.

Breaks from social media and screens

Try and limit how much time you sit in front of a screen. A varied visual diet is essential for our happiness.

Nutrition and water

Fuelling our bodies with a variety of foods is essential to keep us feeling happy and energetic. Stay hydrated by drinking lots of water—when we are dehydrated it can really affect our mood.

Managing family situations

Respect each other's space and express calmly when you need time alone. Put yourself in others' shoes as parents/ carers and siblings maybe struggling, too. Find calm ways to resolve conflict in the house.

4. Activities and resources

For all

Amazon has cancelled the subscription of books and audio stories at 'audible' for children and students of all ages as long as schools are closed. All stories are free to stream on your desktop, laptop, phone or tablet via <https://stories.audible.com/start-listen>

Secondary and Post-16

Students should keep logging into Microsoft Teams (and/or the packs sent home by school, if this is the case) and GCSE Pod to keep their learning going. This will also help them stay in touch with school virtually!
